

FOR THE PRESS.

6 Years in the making. Rebirth comes to life once more.

Written and directed by Roger Conners prolific independent actor known for Teacher Shortage, Chill: The Killing Games, and The Curse of Lilith Ratchet. Rebirth was conceived as a tribute film to George A. Romero's iconic masterpiece Night of the Living Dead. Tragically, the film was thought to be lost until miraculously the hard drives were restored, and the film as you know it was reborn.

"A profound time capsule of our own ignorance. Rebirth will leave viewers chomping for more."

- Michael Therkelsen of www.horrorsociety.com

"Overall, Rebirth is the best remake of Romero's masterpiece Night of the Living Dead since Savini took a stab at it in 1990."

- Mac Bower of www.horrorsociety.com

With the helps of editing team Michael Kunz and Malachi Pulte of Disposable Entertainment, the footage was digitally adapted, restored, and in some instances even completely resuscitated with the help of extensive CGI.

Starring Aswan Harris as Ben / Roger Conners as Adam / Rachel Anderson as Helen Cooper / Al Hudson as Revered Harold Cooper / Brad Arner as Tom / Talyor Nelms as Judy / and Jim Strang as George Rebirth is what independent cinema is all about.
